Murder alarms students

- ▶ "I won't go on the path until her killer is found," says fearful student about trail behind college
- ▶ Second investigation launched to look into the possibility that someone may have tampered with the body

 JOE LOFARO

Students were scared and emotional at the Cegep de l'Outaouais on Thursday as classes continued despite the brutal murder of 18-year-old Valérie Leblanc, whose burned body was discovered on campus Tuesday.

Gatineau police spokesperson J.P. Lemay said Leblanc, a Cegep student, was found with "marks of violence" on her body when a couple found her remains near the trail in a wooded area behind the college.

He also confirmed there is a second investigation related to Leblanc's murder as police suspect someone may have tampered with Leblanc's body.

Cegep student Emilie Gagnon-Delorme sat with her friend Rosalie Pesant-Tremblay Thursday at a picnic table about 15 metres from the makeshift memorial for Leblanc, as nearby police officers conducted their investigation.

"I'm a bit scared as it's nearby," said Gagnon-Delorme, who used to go running on the trail where Leblanc's body was found. "I'm not going to go near that area because it happened there."

Lemay said four people have been interviewed so far, but none are linked to the murder.

▶ Police vehicles sit parked at the Cegep de l'Outaouais next to the trail where Valérie Leblanc's burned body was found Tuesday.

Ottawa man killed in Libya: Friend

JOE LOFARO
@METRONEWS.CA

A 24-year-old IT worker who left his job in Ottawa to work with Libyan rebels has been killed while storming a compound believed to be occupied by Moammar Gadhafi, his friend says.

Haitham Alabadleh of Ottawa said his friend,

Nader Ben Rewin, had been shot and killed Tuesday by one of Gadhafi's snipers.

"He was leading the group and the snipers saw that he was the assistant of the leader. They started to target him and there was no place to hide," said Alabadleh.

Alabadleh learned about his friend's death through a Facebook post from contacts in Libya.

"I was crying for a bit and I remembered all the good time we (had)," said Alabadleh.

But while one Ottawa man died in the turmoil of the Libyan conflict another has reportedly escaped harm.

Mahdi Nazemroaya, a University of Ottawa graduate and independent journalist, escaped from the Rixos Al Nasr hotel in Tripoli Wednesday with other international reporters and is now trying to return to Canada.

His mother, Pouran Asgari, said she was relieved that he made it to the Corinthia hotel, which she says is in a safer part of the Libyan capital.

"But until he's out of that region, we have some concerns," she said.

► Modern coureur des bois finds new crew members every year for time-travelling canoe trip

AMEN JAFRI
OTTAWA@METRONEWS.CA

Every summer for the past seven years, Bob Abrames and his crew transform into 1800s-era voyagers, paddling along historical Canadian fur trade routes sans toilet paper, toothbrush or underwear.

This summer's voyage started three weeks ago in Dozois Reservoir, Que., and ended yesterday afternoon at the Rideau Canal locks, where friends and family greeted Abrames, Geneviève Ross, Diane Moreau and Jay Bailey.

Except for a GPS, emergency cellphones, cameras and life jackets, there's little that is modern about the voyage, right down to the birch bark canoes Abrames carved by hand.

The daily diet consists of fire-cooked split peas, pork fat, wild rice and flour used to make bannock.

Even the crew's wardrobe is "1800s-correct" and custom-made by an Ottawa seamstress.

When he's not on expedition, he uses his experiences as material for corporate speaking engagements.

"It's a question of culture. We are very proud of our history," says the 10th generation French Canadian, turning to wipe away the tears in his eyes.

"We're forgetting our past every year and it makes me so sad that as a country we don't take care of it."

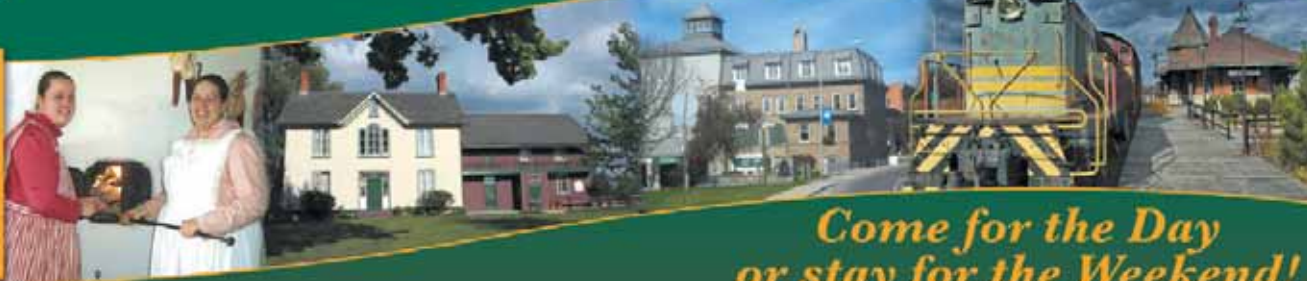

► Bob Abrames, right, and a crew member lift one of Abrames' handmade birch bark canoes after landing at their final destination on the Ottawa River.

GLEN CRAWFORD 'OUR BEST DEFENCE IS TO BE OUT'

A question I hear time and again is, why do we still need a Pride parade? As chair of the Village I hear similar questions, such as, why do we need a Village?

These questions continue to surprise me. Even in this post-same-sex marriage society, our community still suffers great inequities and injustices.

Sunday is the 40th anniversary of "We Demand," Canada's first GLBT civil-rights protest.

About 150 brave Canadians gathered on Parliament Hill to demand equal treatment on immigration, age of consent, adoption and marriage, and more. They faced ridicule — risked losing family, friends, even jobs.

Many laws have changed for the better, but we still have so much to accomplish.

We still have disproportionately higher rates of suicide, bullying and homelessness than mainstream society.

For these reasons it's vital to have a parade, a vigil and a Village. Our best defence is to be out, to be strong and to stand together. When people see us live our lives proudly and with integrity and dignity, we become human and not "others." It becomes harder for us to be misunderstood and harder for people to discriminate against us.

GLEN CRAWFORD IS THE CHAIR OF THE VILLAGE, A NON-PROFIT GROUP ASKING FOR A SECTION OF BANK STREET BETWEEN NEPEAN AND JAMES STREETS TO BE OFFICIALLY DESIGNATED A GLBT-FRIENDLY VILLAGE.

Councillors irked by CUPE cash for Friends

► Word of $15K donation comes before it's decided city's unionized workers will get downtown garbage-collection contract without having to bid

JESSICA SMITH
@METRONEWS.CA

Soon after learning CUPE's national office gave $15,000 to the Friends of Lansdowne legal challenge against the city, councillors voted to guarantee CUPE workers a contract to collect waste downtown without having to bid on the job.

For some, it wasn't an easy pill to swallow.

"There's an elephant in the room and nobody wants to talk about it," said Coun. Eli El-Chantiry. "There's a $15,000 donation from a union who is going to have this contract and we're all trying to deal with this issue with what we have in the back of our minds."

Council approved staff recommendations that the other four garbage-collection zone contracts go to tender. The city will bid on each zone, but at least one is guaranteed to go to a private firm.

son and encourages competition. Staff also say the city's in-house downtown waste team saved more than $4 million over the past four years versus the lowest private-sector bid.

Eight councillors dissented and wanted open bidding on all five zones, as staff had originally recommended. City manager Kent Kirkpatrick said staff changed its mind after talks with CUPE.

El-Chantiry said news of the CUPE donation soured a "good-news story" about the city's unionized workers saving money.

"Unfortunately, it came on a day when we're not so proud of who we've been dealing with."

CUPE Local 503 did not respond to requests for comment.

Irene: Nice name, wicked storm

► U.S. east and even the Maritimes bracing for weekend misery ► Thousands flee North Carolina beach towns in 'nightmare scenario' ► Obama declares emergency ► U.S. economy threatened ► Bahamian homes flattened

Monstrous hurricane Irene tightened her aim on the Eastern Seaboard late Thursday, threatening 65 million people along a path from North Carolina to New England and even the Maritimes.

One of America's top weather experts called it his "nightmare" scenario.

And U.S. President Barack Obama acted fast, declaring an emergency for North Carolina and ordering federal aid.

Tens of thousands of people fled North Carolina beach towns, farmers pulled up their crops, and the navy ordered ships to sea so they could endure the punishing winds and waves in open water.

The storm with winds of 185 km/h would be the strongest to strike the East Coast in seven years.

Beware, Canada

► Hurricane Irene is expected to track through New England and the Maritimes this weekend and into Monday.

► Halifax-based Canadian Hurricane Centre says it's still too early to say what kind of impact it could have on Eastern Canada.

All eyes were on Irene's projected path, which showed her bringing misery to every city along the I-95 corridor, including Washington, New York and Boston.

Sewers run red in Libya's capital

► Intense battles erupt near Gadhafi's seized Tripoli compound ► Libyan leader calls for destroying rebels

The streets where rebel fighters bombarded snipers loyal to Moammar Gadhafi were strewn with bullet-ridden corpses from both sides Thursday. Streams of blood ran down the gutters and turned sewers red.

By sundown the rebels appeared to have won the battle for the Abu Salim neighbourhood, next to Gadhafi's captured Tripoli compound, but the fallen dictator continued to elude them. Speaking from an unknown location, he exhorted his supporters to fight on.

"Don't leave Tripoli for the rats. Fight them, and kill them," Gadhafi said in a new audio message broadcast on Al-Orouba TV, a Syria-based satellite station.

Outside his Bab al-Aziziya compound, which rebels captured Tuesday, there was another grim scene — one that suggested mass, execution-style killings of civilians.

Rebels have seized most of Tripoli since sweeping into the capital on Sunday, and on Thursday they announced that their leadership was moving into the capital. The rebel National Transitional Council has been based in the eastern city of Benghazi, which fell to rebel forces early in the conflict. THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A surprising find

- Libyan rebels who took control of Moammar Gadhafi's sprawling compound found in one of the buildings a photo album with pictures of Condoleezza Rice.
- Over the years, Gadhafi's comments about the former secretary of state have raised a few eyebrows.
- "I support my darling black African woman," he said in an interview with Al-Jazeera in 2007. "I admire and am very proud of the way she leans back and gives orders to the Arab leaders ... Leeza, Leeza, Leeza ... I love her very much."

► Rebel fighters search a captured loyalist soldier during fighting Thursday in the Abu Salim district in Tripoli, Libya.

Mass killings of defenceless?

The bodies are scattered around a grassy square next to Moammar Gadhafi's compound of Bab al-Aziziya. Prone on grassy lots as if napping, sprawled in tents. Some have had their wrists bound by plastic ties.

The identities of the dead are unclear but they are in all likelihood activists that set up an impromptu tent city in solidarity with Gadhafi outside his compound in defiance of the NATO bombing campaign.

It is impossible to know who killed them, but the discoveries raise the disturbing spectre of mass killings of noncombatants, detainees and the wounded.

According to the rebel Military Council of Misrata, a western port city, prisoners held by Gadhafi forces at Mitiga air base in Tripoli were locked up and had grenades thrown into their cells.

The council said rebels have so far retrieved 13 badly burned bodies.

Who's bugging your cellphone?

► Privacy commissioner warns Canadians: Protect your digital devices ► Only four in 10 use passwords

Text messaging may help quiet the hum of public cellphone conversations — but it may also be vulnerable to eavesdropping.

Canada's privacy commissioner says Canadians aren't doing enough to protect their mobile communication devices such as cellphones and tablet computers.

A survey by the commissioner's office suggests only four in 10 people password-protect their phones or adjust privacy settings on personal-information sharing via downloaded applications.

People who actually store personal information on their devices were

"We encourage people to use passwords, encryption, privacy settings and every other available measure to safeguard their personal information, because the meaningful protection of privacy has to start with the individual," commissioner Jennifer Stoddart said.

Canadians are increasingly worried about their privacy in a digital environment.

The survey found that levels of concern about a range of technologies and applications, including cellphones, online banking and credit- and debit-card transactions, all rose since 2009.

Two thousand people were surveyed.

Tweet this: 'Fist bump' gets into top dictionary

Here's something for your Twitter feed: "Tweet" has earned a spot in the Merriam-Webster Collegiate Dictionary.

The word describing a post made on the online Twitter message service is among more than 100 new terms revealed Thursday for the dictionary publisher's newest edition.

Newcomers include "fist bump," a hip alternative to the high-five, and the "boomerang child" who has returned home in adulthood for lack of cash.

Maybe he's spending his days steering clear of that lonely "cougar" across the street and hanging out with his best buddy, shaking off jokes that they're in a "bromance."

And, of course, he "tweets" every detail of it.

U.K. backs off social media ban

► Politicians leery of cutting media services during public unrest ► Rights groups rally against proposition

Britain's government and police met social media executives Thursday to discuss how to prevent their services from being used to plot violence.

But authorities did not seek new powers to shut down Facebook, Twitter or BlackBerry Messenger in times of crisis.

The four days of rioting, triggered by a fatal police shooting in London on Aug. 4, left a trail of looted stores and torched cars across the city.

► Cannons and fond applause mark the start of late NDP leader's journey back to Toronto

A 15-gun salute crashed over Parliament Hill as Mounties carried Jack Layton's coffin to a waiting hearse and a last ride home on Thursday.

A lone piper played as eight scarlet-clad officers carried the late NDP leader down the hallway from the foyer of the House of Commons to the door under the Peace Tower and out into the humid August sunshine.

The bells of the tower carillon pealed out O Canada, John Lennon's evocative Imagine and finally, the Dominion March, a piece composed by Layton's grandfather. Waves of applause ran through a crowd of several hundred onlookers as the funeral procession rolled off.

Earlier, the final mourners filed past Layton's flag-draped coffin in the Commons foyer. It was a familiar haunt for Layton, who would habitually bound out of the Commons after question period to speak to journalists on the very spot. Widow Olivia Chow, Layton's son Mike and daughter Sarah and granddaughter Beatrice strolled through the crowd, thanking people for coming out.

The coffin is to lie in Toronto City Hall for people to pay their last respects before the state funeral at Roy Thomson Hall on Saturday. THE CANADIAN PRESS

Pressure on Cook to keep Apple on

- CEO's resignation may be due to medical condition
- Successor, Tim Cook, has run company since January

With Steve Jobs bowing out as CEO, Apple Inc. must persuade investors and consumers that it doesn't need the force behind the iMac, iPod, iPhone and iPad in charge to keep hits coming. Tim Cook, his hand-picked successor, has handled the top job repeatedly in the absence of the ailing Jobs, 56, who resigned as chief executive Wednesday and was elected chairman of Apple's board. Cook had been running Apple since January. The company's stock rose 62 per cent when Cook was in charge in the first half of 2009, and it gained 8 per cent since Jobs' most recent leave. On Thursday, Apple's stock fell $4.03, or about 1 per cent, to $372.16 in mid-day trading, but the entire market was down as well. Jeff Gamet, managing editor of news site The Mac Observer, said Jobs' departure has more sentimental than practical significance. "All Apple really has done is made official what they've been doing administratively for a while now," he said. But Trip Chowdhry, Global Equities Research analyst, said Jobs' maniacal attention to detail is what has set Apple apart. He predicts that the company will eventually struggle to create market-changing ideas. "Apple is Steve Jobs, Steve Jobs is Apple, and Steve Jobs is innovation," Chowdhry said. "Apple without Steve Jobs is nothing." THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Seduce the geeks, then the masses

It's easy to forget now, but Apple's magnetism was once confined to a cult-like following of geeks seduced by elegance and simplicity of the computers. Apple has emerged as a trendsetter and a wealth-making machine — appealing to cool cats in cafés and fat cats on Wall Street. Apple has left a mark that extends beyond that first personal computer Steve Jobs and Steve Wozniak introduced 35 years ago. Apple has transformed the music, retailing, marketing and cellphone industries and is engineering another evolution; the iPad tablet. Jobs assembled a team with a knack for anticipating trends and popularizing them by designing devices that were easy, and delightful, to use. Jobs' wizardry rescued a company from bankruptcy, elevating it into the second most valuable business in the U.S., behind Exxon Mobil Corp. The last test for Jobs' may come as he tries to pass on his touch to Tim Cook. THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Apple's loss won't help RIM?

The resignation of Apple CEO Steve Jobs won't provide Research In Motion with the opportunity it needs to recover market share that its BlackBerry devices lost to the iPhone and iPad, analysts say. They say RIM's best hope is to deliver new, consumer-friendly BlackBerry smartphones on time and without problems.

Apple is working on a new iPhone. Any effect of Jobs' departure won't be seen until 2013, says Sascha Segen of PC Magazine. "One thing that Apple understands that RIM hasn't understood recently is: you never get a second chance to make a first impression," she said. THE CANADIAN PRESS

BBM music to swap and share

Research in Motion is hoping its millions of BlackBerry Messenger-obsessed users will get just as hooked on its new service, BBM Music, and pay $5 a month to swap songs

Songs can be listened to offline without an Internet connection. The key is not only in listening to the songs but sharing them with other BBM users. THE CANADIAN PRESS

Nokia markets phones for those on a budget

- Cellphone manufacturer claims 1.3 billion daily users
- Partners with Microsoft to capture more markets

Nokia on Thursday unveiled its two cheapest cellphones to date aimed at attracting users in the low end market as it fights increasing competition from Asian manufacturers.

The Nokia 100 and 101, priced $20 and $25 respectively, will be available in the third and fourth quarters of the year.

The launch comes a day after Nokia announced three new mass-market smartphones, including what it called the world's smallest touch-screen smartphone and one with the world's brightest display.

The Finland-based company is being increasingly squeezed in the low end market by Asian manufacturers like ZTE and in the high end by the makers of smartphones like Apple Inc.'s iPhone and Research In Motion's BlackBerry.

It is hoping to regain momentum with the Windows Phone 7, to be launched later this year, after teaming up with Microsoft, whose Windows Phone operating system will become the main platform for Nokia cellphones.

The three smartphones unveiled Wednesday are based on Symbian technology, seen by some developers as clumsy and dated. It was surpassed by Google's popular Android as the world's No. 1 smartphone software at the end of last year, but Nokia said it will continue to develop Symbian products.

The Nokia 100, a basic handset for calls and sending text messages, features a colour display with a grid-based menu system and an FM radio.

The Nokia 101 has dual SIM device, enabling users to connect to two different networks to receive calls and messages. It also has an FM radio, integrated MP3 player and supports 16-gigabyte microSD memory cards.

Nokia shares closed down 1 per cent at C$4.12 on the Helsinki Stock Exchange. THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Best-selling author to release e-book

Stephen King is back in the e-book game.

The horror master is releasing a short story in digital format only. Scribner announced yesterday that Mile 81, a chilling story set at a rest stop on the Maine Turnpike, will go on sale Sept. 1 at a suggested price of $2.99.

The new book will also include an excerpt from King's upcoming novel, 11/22/63.

Klout, a San Francisco-based website that helps measure online influence, will allow some users to download Mile 81 for free.

King has a long history of writing stories as e-exclusives. His Riding the Bullet novella was an early Internet sensation when it came out in 2000.

CHANGING THE WORLD, ONE LEADER AT A TIME

THE METRO LIST

PAUL SULLIVAN
METRO

So much is happening this week, I may have to drop Kim Kardashian's wedding.

1 Goodbye, Mr. Layton:

Jack leaves Parliament Hill one last time, not before leaving us with some words to live by: "My friends, love is better than anger. Hope is better than fear. Optimism is better than despair. So let us be loving, hopeful and optimistic. And we'll change the world." You know, it just could work.

2 Goodbye, Mr. Jobs: The world's foremost gizmo-gist, Apple CEO Steve Jobs, submits his letter of resignation. Not sure if he sent it in via his iPhone, iPad, iPod or iMac. Other people get kicked upstairs; Steve ascends into the Cloud.

3 Goodbye, Mr. Gadhafi: Sense a theme here? Libyan totalitarian nutbar Moammar Gadhafi slips away from his compound and heads for the tunnels where he is still able to broadcast stirring messages to his followers (the few who aren't dead yet), exhorting them not to leave Tripoli to the "rats." He should talk.

4 Goodbye, Mr. Robertson: CTV's Lloyd Robertson, the dean of Canadian news anchors, retires Sept. 1. It's the end of TV news as we know it, but he can't stay up that late any more.

5 Goodbye, Sidney?: A lot of disturbing rumours are swirling around hockey superstar Sidney Crosby, still recovering from the effects of a pair of nasty concussions suffered last season. Some people worry that he'll never play again. Aw, it's all in his head.

6 Hello, Lady Gaga: The alien pop star passes Oprah as Forbes' most powerful female celebrity, but she's still only No. 11 on the big list, trailing the likes of No. 1 Angela Merkel (chancellor of Germany), No. 2 Hillary Clinton (U.S. secretary of state) and Charlotte Empey (my editor).

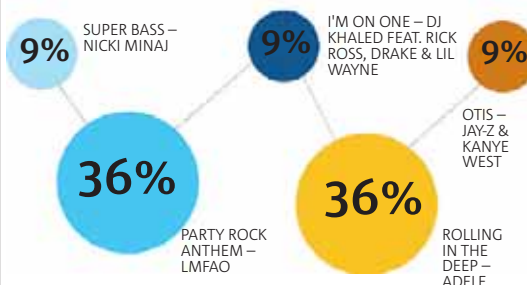

7 Welcome back, Carrie: Carrie Fisher, Princess Leia to a generation of smitten Stars Wars nerds, loses 50 pounds on Jenny Craig and vows to get back into that bikini she was forced to wear by Jabba the Hutt in Return of the Jedi. Now, if we could only get Jabba on Jenny Craig.

8 Look Out: It's Margaret Atwood! Somehow the mayor of Toronto and his bro (Rob and Doug, eh?) have made an enemy of Margaret Atwood. Doug wants to know: Who's Margaret Atwood? Just the world-famous author of 40 books, winner of the Booker Prize, whose writing the New York Times calls "chillingly brilliant." She has teamed up with eight other writers to launch the Why My Library Matters to Me contest. And she's steamed that you're trying to close libraries. You think Moammar Gadhafi has trouble?

JACK LAYTON. I have an idea for Mr. Layton's funeral Saturday.

I think it would be nice if all Canadians wear orange to recreate the orange wave in his honour and memory. Obviously, many Canadians are mourning the great and charming man he was more than the politician. By wearing orange, it will mean that we are wearing Jack a bit closer to our hearts. Please help me spread the message and see if we can recreate the orange wave one more time for Mr. Layton.

Jack Layton's political fight on behalf of all Canadians is not finished but only begun.

The man, his spirit, his drive to succeed is still alive; his dream for the New Democratic Party he loved so much will long inspire those who take up his battle to give all Canadians a fair and just federal government.

This was a man who dreamed an impossible dream; however the light of that dream still burns brightly in the NDP party he cherished, with much hope for the future.

Survival of the strongest stomach

Eskil Carlsson invited his neighbours this week for a taste of the 71-year-old brisket stored in a jar by his mother-in-law's family at the start of the Second World War.

But first, he tried it out on the cat. "When it survived, we all had a taste," Carlsson told Swedish media.

Gingerly, though, as the 70-year-old Carlsson shows in a video of him and his neighbours wrestling with the still well-sealed glass jar, then fishing out fragments of meat.

"It didn't smell bad, anyway. It was as if it had been meat from this week. I shouldn't exaggerate, though; it was no delicacy," he told The Local, an English-language Swedish news report.

The cat didn't look impressed, either.

Nor was Martin Bucknavage, a Penn State University food-safety professor.

"Would I eat it? Probably not. But the nice thing about low-acid canned food is it can last for years and years. Certainly you can tell the vacuum seal was still there."

Plot synopsis

Paul Rudd plays Ned, a Mr. Nice Guy unsuited for life outside of his organic farm. When he innocently sells marijuana to a uniformed policeman he is thrown in jail. Unfortunately in his absence his hippie girlfriend found a new boyfriend. His three sisters (Elizabeth Banks, Zooey Deschanel and Emily Mortimer) take turns housing him, but in each case his willingness to believe the best in people causes chaos.

Idiot Bro a smarty-pants

► Our Idiot Brother is a fun indie comedy that takes a jab at the neo-hippie movement ► Strong cast buoys a flimsy movie to make for a fun 90 minutes

Richard: Mark, Our Idiot Brother is a low key indie comedy with a much different feel from the movies that made Rudd famous. His Apatow years have been spent doing broad comedy in movies like The 40 Year Old Virgin, but this is more character based — and less funny. There are laughs here, but instead of going for the jokes Rudd is concentrating on playing the character and allowing the humour to flow naturally from him and the situations. Did that work for you?

Mark: Most definitely! I was worried — based on the title, the poster, the trailer, and the Apatow

DNA — that this would be nothing but silly slapstick. But it turned out to be a nicely tuned comedy of manners about the clash between bourgeois and counterculture values. The irony of the title is that the Rudd character is anything but an idiot. Like the '80s movie Down and Out in Beverly Hills, the hippie outsider upsets the domesticity of those around him, but somehow improves everyone's lives in the process. Rudd is great, and so is the rest of the cast, don't you think?

RC: I thought so too. Banks, Deschanel and Mortimer each bring a different flavour to their roles as the sisters. Banks is a driven writer with sketchy ethics, Deschanel a free-ish spirit with commitment issues while Mortimer plays a mousy mom. They all stand in stark contrast to the innocence of their brother but their presence buoys, and gives heart to, the film's family first message.

MB: One thing I really liked about the film is that it completely nailed the Hudson Valley neo-hippie movement in all its charm and hypocrisy. It's a subculture ripe for satirizing, but it hasn't been done much until now, so it felt fresh. Deschanel's weird bohemian lifestyle also felt original and contributed to the indie feel of the film. But I have to admit, as much as I enjoyed watching it, it's a flimsy movie and it didn't stay with me.

RC: I sort of agree. I think it's a likeable comedy elevated by a strong cast who bring empathy to characters who, in less experienced hands, might not have had any.

MB: Only the last 10 minutes felt rushed, with characters changing their motivation for no discernible reason at all. It felt like some scenes had been edited out. But overall, it was a good way to spend 90 minutes in the dark.

MWN IN HOLLYWOOD

Zoe Saldana knows her guns. "I'm a .45 myself. A .22 is too wimpy for me," says the actress, who plays a skilled assassin in Colombiana. "I like the .9. It's something that I can manoeuvre, and because I have very small wrists it's a weight that I can sustain and the impact won't hurt me in my joints."

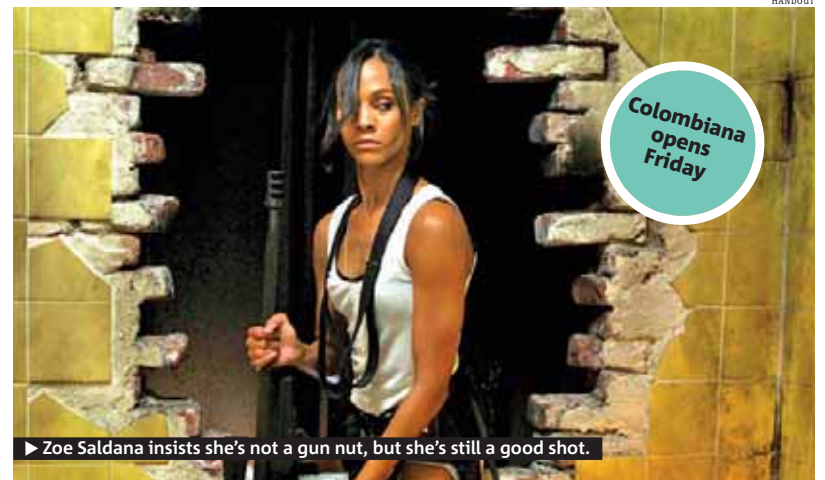

Saldana insists she's no gun nut. This expertise comes from Hollywood, after starring in a number of firearm-heavy titles like the Losers and Vantage Point.

No down time

So how does Zoe Saldana relax after a tough day of butt-kicking and gunplay on set? "Wine is perfect to unwind. Just a glass of wine, a bath and just... I don't know," she says. But the fact of the matter is the actress doesn't do a whole lot of relaxing. "I wish I could sugarcoat it for you, but when I'm working, I'm working. So yeah, I'll have a glass of wine and go out and have dinner with the cast and crew, but before I go to bed I'm reading those lines for the next day. I'm up 30 minutes before I have to get picked up ... and I'm on that treadmill because I want to make sure that I'm healthy and aware — naturally. I don't drink caffeine."

Colombiana, though, trumps them all in sheer firepower. But her character, Cataleya, is just as deadly without a gun in her hand — something Saldana says isn't so strange but still catches men off-guard. "I've been trained by people that were in the military, Marines, from Avatar to the Losers and now Colombiana, and they don't see gender when they see a threat across from them. They see a threat," she says. "So I would say watch out. Anytime you see a skinny girl and she's had any kind of military training, just don't blink. She could f—ing kill you."

► Zoe Saldana insists she's not a gun nut, but she's still a good shot.

Guns and fighting aside, Saldana admits the biggest draw for Colombiana was that it was produced and co-written by French filmmaker Luc Besson, someone of whom she's long been an admirer. "It's much more important for me to get to work with filmmakers that I've grown up loving and admiring, and Luc Besson is definitely one of the names that was on my bucket list — especially for the iconic femme fatale characters that he's created, because they're strong on the exterior but they're so fragile and broke on the inside," she says. "There were [other] offers, but Luc Besson took priority."

Already a fan of strong

Besson women in films like La Femme Nikita and the Fifth Element, Saldana looked elsewhere for research that might inform Cataleya, including the Girl with the Dragon Tattoo. But mostly she just watched TV a bunch. "I was watching a lot of animal behaviour because to me whenever she wasn't playing any of her roles to kill her targets ... she was such an omega wolf," she says.

Don't Be Afraid of the Dark

Genre: Horror

Director: Troy Nixey

Stars: Katie Holmes, Guy Pearce, Bailee Madison

Don't be Afraid of the Dark, a reimagining of a scary 1973 TV movie of the same name, and produced by shock maestro Guillermo del Toro, sees a young girl attract the attention of mysterious creepy-crawlies with a taste for preteens. The movie's opening hour is chock-a-block with atmosphere and the hallmarks of gothic horror — like a groundskeeper who knows more than he is letting on, mysterious voices and hidden chambers — but is light on action. It all leads to a satisfying climax, however, featuring swarms of cool creatures and enough ferocious fun to make the slow start worthwhile.

Eco Pirate: The Paul Watson Story

Genre: Documentary

Director: Trish Dolman

Stars: Paul Watson, Patrick Moore, Rex Weyler

Paul Watson doesn't exactly fit the mould of the all-loving environmentalist.

In fact, the early member of Greenpeace left the organization because he disagreed with their non-violent policies and now embarks on environmental quests like capturing ships that crash into illegal Japanese whaling vessels. As you'd expect, he's a controversial figure and fortunately Trish Dolman's profile offers no sugar coating.

Writers still try to out-imagine 9-11

► A decade after the attacks, authors reveal how 9-11 changed the American psyche — for better and for worse

"I don't think art can 'compete' with something like 9-11," says Jess Walter, whose post 9-11 novel The Zero was a National Book Award finalist in 2006.

"What could be sharper than our images of that day, whether we saw it in person or witnessed it on TV? Who could make a movie as vivid as the picture we get when we close our eyes

"Americans have this long sense of isolation and impregnability and 9-11 was the end of the blind American sense they had won the Cold War."

JONATHAN GALASSI, PRESIDENT AND PUBLISHER OF FARRAR, STRAUS & GIROUX

A novel approach

The Submission is about a Pakistani-American who wins a contest for designing a Sept. 11-like memorial.

► The book tells the story of architect Mohammad Khan, a nonobservant Muslim subjected to harsh accusations that he is a terrorist sympathizer with a secret

— the smoking tower, the clear sky, the second jet banking toward the other tower?"

Scores of books, films and plays have narrated and analyzed the terrorist attacks, the causes, and the emotional, cultural and political effects. The responses have evolved from the quiet plan to build a religious shrine.

► Secular view:

"There was a lot of interest in getting inside the minds of terrorists and much less interest in getting inside the minds of Muslims who were not terrorists," says author Amy Waldman.

grief of Anne Nelson's play The Guys to such international thrillers as the film Babel to Joseph O'Neill's reflective novel Netherland.

But no fictional character or invented story has forced itself into our minds like the events themselves. No movie has matched the power, and the horror, of the snufflike footage of the plane hitting the World Trade Center's south tower, or the iconic Associated Press photo of a man falling from the north tower.

Entering the mind of another is a feat for any fiction writer, but some have attempted to dwell in the thoughts of an extremist. John Updike's Terrorist begins with a teen Muslim taking in the temptations of the West, "These devils seek to take away my God. All day long, at Central High School, girls sway and sneer and expose their soft bodies and alluring hair."

A night of knockouts

BOXING. Fans of the sweet science — that's boxing, to non-aficionados — have a double header of their own on Friday. First on HBO Canada there's Tyson, a documentary about the infamous heavyweight Mike Tyson.

Then a little later TMN has The Fighter, which was nominated for seven Academy Awards.

Christian Bale and Melissa Leo both won supporting acting Oscars for their roles.

When your ex-student turns into a porn star

EEK. Fans of Friends With Benefits — the rom-com TV show, not the new movie starring Justin Timberlake and Mila Kunis — can catch back-to-back episodes on Friday.

In the first, the gang celebrates Mardi Gras and in the second, Aaron finds out a girl he mentored in high school became an adult film star. And she blames him for her career choice. (NBC)

As if we hadn't had enough Harry Potter

BEHIND THE AUTHOR. Magic Beyond Words: The J.K. Rowling Story is a dramatized version of the story behind the writing of the Harry Potter novels and Rowling's rags to riches life airs Saturday. (TMN)

Dr. Who takes on Adolf Hitler

TIME MACHINE CRASH. The British sci-fi series Doctor Who is back on Saturday with the provocatively titled episode Let's Kill Hitler.

Just as it sounds, the TARDIS time machine crash lands in Germany in the 1930s and the Doctor finds himself confronting Hitler. (Space)

Let the MTV madness begin

VIDEO AWARDS. It's not quite as big a deal as it used to be but the MTV Video Music Awards still do pack in the A-listers. Adele, Lady Gaga and Lil Wayne are due to perform on Sunday. The presenters include Seth Rogen, Selena Gomez and Kim Kardashian. (MTV Canada) THE CANADIAN PRESS

Raising hell in their high heels

► Miranda Lambert's side project, Pistol Annies, aiming to shake things up

Angaleena Presley was doing what she usually does at 2 a.m. — sleeping — when the phone rang.

On the other end of the line was Ashley Monroe, who had been hanging out with her friend Miranda Lambert and, perhaps, having a cocktail or two.

"And I went, 'Hey, this better be important, by God,'" Presley recalled, her young son sleeping next to her.

"Turns out it was, huh?" Monroe said.

That call two-and-a-half years ago led to Pistol Annies, a concept group of sorts that's aimed at shaking things up and drawing attention to female singer-songwriters who sometimes get overlooked in the rush to find the next big star.

"I just happened to be the one that got successful," said Lambert, whose breakthrough 2009 album Revolution established her as one of country's elite acts, with Grammy, ACM and CMA trophies to go along with her recent status. "There's a whole bunch of us that you haven't heard yet."

The trio launched the aply titled Hell on Heels this week. It's a deep country take on life for the modern woman, running from glam to glum and back again.

Lambert, dubbed Lone Star Annie, has been friends with Monroe (Hippie Annie) since soon after both signed with Sony several years ago. Monroe met Presley separately through her publisher.

Monroe decided that late night to put her two friends together after she and Lambert began talking about Presley's music. The friends started getting together to have fun.

► Miranda Lambert

Alcohol might have been involved, though no one will confirm it. There was never talk of a concept group or even writing songs together. But eventually the guitars came out, and so did Pistol Annies.

Hell on Heels has an attitude for sure, best evidenced in the title song, the wonderfully tart Bad Example, and Lambert's ode to jerks (Trailer for Rent). But it's more remarkable for its reflection of the times and how poverty and unhappiness are just a decision or two away.

THE HARD LIFE OF ROCKSTARS

SOUND CHECK

ALAN CROSS
SCENE
@METRONEWS.CA

Back on the 19th, Bono felt unwell. Decompressing from the massive 360 Tour at his villa in Eze-sur-Mer in the south of France, his heart began rattling around in his chest like a drum machine gone insane. The palpitations and discomfort were enough for his wife to rush him to Princess Grace Memorial Hospital in nearby Monaco. After being examined by a specialist and subjected to a battery of tests, he was sent home with orders to get some rest. Bono's 51-year-old body is telling him something: you can't be on a world tour for two years, pausing only for major spinal surgery and not expect to suffer some physical consequences.

The pace, the travel, the time zone shifts and the exertion of performing two hours a night takes its toll, even on the most pampered of rock stars. Performing is hard physical work that gets only harder as you get older. Much has been made about Meatloaf's requirement for a small tank of oxygen and a mask side-stage so he may revive his 63-year-old frame between songs. That he suffers from asthma doesn't help, which contributed to his fainting at two shows earlier this month. But Meatloaf's oxygen jones isn't unique. Many performers rely on hits of O₂ during shows.

Even younger musicians need assistance. I was once backstage before a show by one of the biggest groups in the world. They travel with a refrigerator-sized medical dispensary that contained everything from rapid-release painkillers (migraines be damned; the show must go on) to syringes used for pre-show B-12 shots.

The case also contained all manner of bandages, splints, allergy pills, antiseptics, antibiotics, muscle relaxants, compresses (hot and cold), medical instruments (scissors, scalpels, tweezers) — a genuine M*A*S*H unit. And I seem to recall an oxygen unit somewhere. Then there's Paul McCartney.

Not that long ago, I saw him perform 22 consecutive songs before he took as much as a sip of water. Not bad for 69.

► George Clooney's singing chops didn't make the final cut again.

Old timey tunes return

► O Brother, Where Art Thou? soundtrack re-packaged and re-released

George Clooney isn't the only one whose singing didn't make the final cut of O Brother, Where Art Thou? the film's best-selling soundtrack that helped turn old-timey music into hit pop tunes again.

Clooney's stab at singing the film's signature song still remains in the vaults, but an expanded version of the soundtrack — in stores Tuesday — packs 14 extra tracks, including 12 previously unreleased cuts from music producer T Bone Burnett's latest O Brother sessions.

The two-CD set, which also includes the 19 tunes from the original soundtrack, helps celebrate the 10th anniversary of the O

Brother triumph at the 2001 Grammys, where it was picked as album of the year.

The film's $45 million haul at the domestic box-office was at the time the biggest success yet for filmmakers Joel and Ethan Coen, but it was a pittance compared to Hollywood blockbusters.

The album, though, was a runaway hit, selling nine million copies, ranking as one of the 10 top-selling soundtracks ever and inspiring renewed interest in long-neglected rootsy music that continues today.

As the studio engineer tells Clooney's gang in the film, "people can't seem to get enough" of that old-timey stuff.

Is J.Lo's ex at the root of Smiths' problems?

► Jada Pinkett had affair with Hawthorne co-star Marc Anthony: Rumours

Rumours are swirling that turmoil in Will Smith and Jada Pinkett Smith's marriage is over Jada allegedly having an affair with her Hawthorne co-star, Marc Anthony — both on screen and off, according to In Touch.

"There was a lot of Jada wanting to have love scenes with Marc Anthony," a source close to the production says.

"She definitely pushed for a story line that had Marc Anthony as a love interest. Never made sense to the network, but Jada pushed and they stopped pushing back."

Will and Jada have been quick to deny any reports of infidelity or separation.

Paris' show gets axed: Report

While reps for the show insist no decision has been made, the Oxygen network is reportedly dumping Paris Hilton's series, The World According to Paris, after one season, according to Vulture.

The show's first episode in June only brought in 400,000 viewers, and the numbers dropped off after that. While she's been posting to Twitter regularly about her social life, Hilton hasn't addressed the cancellation rumours.

MATTHEW MEAD/ THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Start to finish:
30 mins.
Serves:
6

Ingredients:

- 1 l (4 cups) canola oil
- 125 ml (1/2 cup) mayo
- 2 ml (1/2 tsp) Old Bay seasoning
- 15 ml (1 tbsp) hot sauce
- 15 ml (1 tbsp) lemon juice
- 2 large red tomatoes, seeded and diced (about 500 ml/2 cups)
- 2 large green tomatoes, diced (about 500 ml/2 cups)
- 2 eggs, beaten
- 2 scallions, chopped
- 15 ml (1 tbsp) chopped fresh mint
- 50 ml (1/4 cup) chopped fresh parsley
- 30 ml (2 tbsp) cornmeal
- 250 ml (1 cup) all-purpose flour
- 3 ml (3/4 tsp) baking powder
- 3 ml (3/4 tsp) salt
- 2 ml (1/2 tsp) pepper

Preparation:

- 1 In a large deep pot over medium-high, heat oil to 160 C (320 F).
- 2 In a bowl, mix mayo, Old Bay seasoning, hot sauce and lemon juice. Set aside.
- 3 Drain excess liquid from tomatoes and transfer to a bowl. Stir with eggs, scallions, mint, parsley, cornmeal, flour, baking powder, salt and black pepper. Working in batches, drop mixture by the spoonful into hot oil. Turn as needed until golden brown and, 4 minutes. Transfer to paper towels to drain oil. Serve fritters with the prepared mayo.

Any way you slice it, the tomato is one confusing comestible. There's the whole identity crisis thing — is it a fruit or a vegetable? — and don't get us started on the tuh-MAY-to, tuh-MAH-to thing. It's enough to drive anyone ba-NAY-nas.

Here are two common misconceptions.

Fruit or vegetable?

Botanically speaking the tomato is a fruit, but horti-culturally and legally it is considered a vegetable.

Toxic tomatoes?

Tomatoes are part of the nightshade family, just like peppers and eggplants, which led some in the past to believe the fruit is poisonous. However, as we now know, tomatoes are harmless. And delicious

Meat meets its wine match

If I learned one thing during my travels in South America, it was that the Argentines love their barbecue.

They call it asado and in the wineries (especially those throughout its primary grape-growing region of Mendoza), the red wines have been crafted to match the charred influences of meats fresh from the fire.

Though cabernet sauvignon and merlot are widely planted, grapes like bonarda (offers balanced ripe fruit) and tannat (owes its name to its tannic profile) are almost exclusively Argentinean. Then there's malbec. Originally from France's Bordeaux region, its juice has become Argentina's hallmark. With up-front fruit and a spicy personality that can go from light and simple to a major bite of freshly ground pepper, malbec is a perfect match for grilled meats.

Catena Zapata's 2010 Alamos Malbec ($13.95 - $14.99) is a gusty mash of the heavier end of the spice trail. With a mouth coating flow of deep, dark fruit, it's one of the best red wine values on the shelf.

Serena throws wrench in U.S. Open

The biggest question heading into the U.S. Open draw was: Which highly seeded woman could be stuck facing Serena Williams in the third round? The answer: No. 4 Victoria Azarenka of Belarus.

"Poor, poor, poor Victoria Azarenka," seven-time major champion John McEnroe said at Thursday's draw ceremony in Flushing Meadows.

Azarenka was a Wimbledon semifinalist in July, as was No. 22 Sabine Lisicki of Germany, who could play Williams' older sister Venus in the second round.

Serena Williams is a three-time U.S. Open champion who leads all active women with 13 Grand Slam titles. Venus Williams is a two-time winner in

New York and owns a total of seven major singles trophies.

The Grand Slam tournament starts Monday.

After missing nearly a year of action with health problems, Serena Williams returned to the tour in June and won two of her four tournaments. She is seeded 28th for the U.S. Open.

Venus Williams, meanwhile, is ranked 36th and unseeded.

Looking at the latter stages of the men's field, No. 1 seed Novak Djokovic and Roger Federer were drawn to possibly meet in one semifinal, while defending champion Rafael Nadal and Andy Murray could meet in the other.

Richdale strong to start Open

► B.C. golfer challenges leaders at Round 1 of Canadian Women's Open

Samantha Richdale was among select company after the opening round of the CN Canadian Women's Open.

The second-year LPGA player from Kelowna, B.C., fired a career-best 6-under 66 to sit alone in third place, one stroke behind co-leaders Ai Miyazato and Pernilla Lindberg in excellent afternoon scoring conditions Thursday at the Hillsdale Golf Club in Mirabel, Que.

"Just over a month ago I went to see (coach) Dave Stockton to work on my putting and today, my caddy (Tom Konopacki) and I just read some really good and I made them," the 27-year-old Richdale said.

"It's special. I had my brother (Josh) in the crowd, which was really nice. We had great weather in the afternoon and it's a nice ending to the day."

Richdale had made the cut in only two of seven events this year and her best round was a 70 in March when she finished tied for 19th at the LPGA Founders Cup.

Richdale started the week strong as part of the winning group with 1973 Canadian Open champ Jocelyne Bourassa in the program tournament on Monday.

The five-time winner in lower-tier events will start the second round Friday in an unfamiliar spot near the top of an LPGA leaderboard.

Five-players were tied for fourth at 5-under 67, including defending champion Michelle Wie, Angela Stanford, Jenny Shin, Song-Hee Kim and Mi Hyun Kim.

CFL EXTRA POINTS

DAN TOTH

OTTAWA@METRONEWS.CA

The story and subplots out of Saskatchewan after the firing of coaches Greg Marshall and Doug Berry are getting more and more curious.

Whacking Marshall eight games into his first season makes it apparent the two clowns who hired him should also be sent packing. Those two geniuses are Ken Miller, VP of Football Operations, and Riders GM Brendan Taman. But not only have they avoided the hatchet, many in Rider Nation think Miller will magically lead the team to another Grey Cup appearance in November. Not likely.

Then came word quarterback Darian Durant accused Marshall of dismantling a team that was "four points away from being a dynasty," a reference to the Riders' tough losses in back-to-back Grey Cups. And Grannie would be Grandpa, if only she had a couple of coconuts.

Dynasty? Last year the Riders finished the season 10-8, not exactly threatening the 1972 Miami Dolphins' record for excellence.

Marshall was hand-picked by Miller, who is now rewarded with assuming the head coach's job.

In Taman's defence, he apparently was keen during the off-season on choosing former Calgary Stampeders coach Corey Chamblin to lead the Riders. In hindsight, it seems he would have been a much better choice.

Bombers are no box office bomb: The Winnipeg Blue Bombers are reaching a level of popularity unparalleled in the team's eight-decade history.

The 6-1 Bombers are riding high in first place in the East and have sold out four consecutive games, including Friday's tilt with the Hamilton Tiger-Cats. They've even added additional bleachers to accommodate the surge of support. It's just the second time in the last three decades that Bombers' fans have spun the turnstiles at such a ferocious rate.

The Bombers are on a pace to eclipse the team's attendance record of 252,802 set in 2001.

Wouldn't it be fitting if the fans were rewarded with the team's first Grey Cup since 1990?

Als face

Where do the defending Grey Cup champion Montreal Alouettes fit into the race for the title this season? We should gain some insight Saturday when they travel to Calgary to face the Stamps. The Als have enjoyed easy wins over Toronto and Edmonton in consecutive weeks, two teams that didn't put up much of a fight. But now the 5-2 Als face a true test in the 5-2 Stampeders, the team with the inside track to finish first once again in the West.

c, Hon, don't know what to do without you. I am going crazy. Can't live without you my love. Tell me what to do pl. s

April G. Happy One Year Anniversary!! This has been the best year of my life and even though things haven't been easy for us lately, we'll still come out on top, I promise. LOVE GABE

Today's horoscope

♈ Aries March 21-April 20 A positive attitude will yield positive results today and this weekend.

♉ Taurus April 21-May 21 You may not want to make a difficult decision but you'll find you have no choice in the matter.

♊ Gemini May 22-June 21 Visit places you have not seen in a while. Let your old friends know you exist. Don't stay in one place.

♋ Cancer June 22-July 22 If you need assistance with a business issue or money matter, now is the time to ask. People will gladly help.

♌ Leo July 23-Aug. 23 Today, you won't be short of ideas and you won't be short of words.

♍ Virgo Aug. 24-Sept. 22 Don't agree to something just because you cannot be bothered to argue about it. Learn to say "no".

♎ Libra Sept. 23-Oct. 23 It's time to make serious changes — the kind that transform your existence.

♏ Scorpio Oct. 24-Nov. 22 Take note of any new ideas that arise in your mind today because they could be your key to fame and fortune. And make sure you act fast.
